similarly to how anisotropic difficulty works in the classic FNAF games, lovedolls will gradually become hornier, more eager and more aggressive with each night. I've been thinking about adding a couple exceptions to this rule, most notably;

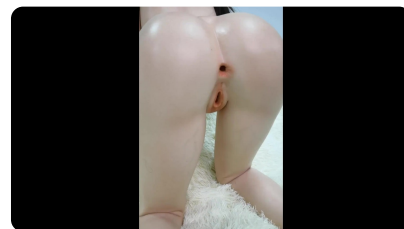

- specific lovedolls becoming hornier if the player watches them for long periods of time through the cameras/office window.

- specific lovedolls becoming less horny if they've caught the player before.

(creepi will not mind if the player gets caught, as the rest of them being out is cool instead)

- Jerry, whose difficulty level is static and only changes depending on how many times the player has revealed his hiding spots/brought other lovedolls to his location using the audio lure.
